DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 5, 7, 8 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ikawa (6,835,346 B1).

The cited Ikawa above is a WO 01/36179 which was published on 05/25/2001.

Regarding claims 1 and 5, Ikawa teaches a cutting tool comprising a blade holder having a cutting blade 4C, a robot controlled device for controlling the movement of the blade holder and a distant sensor. See Fig. 1.

Regarding claims 7, 8 and 10, Ikawa teaches a method for making grooves on an airbag comprising the step of providing a blade holder having a cutting blade 4C, a robot controlled device for controlling the movement of the blade holder and a distant sensor. See Fig. 1.

It is to be noted that airbags are made of thermoplastic.

It is to be noted that a circuit for integrating the distant sensor into the cutting tool is inherent in the system.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ikawa.

Ikawa teaches the invention substantially as claimed except for a specific shape of a distant sensor housing for housing the distant sensor. Providing the distant sensor housing a specific shape for artistic purpose is routine skill in the art. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to provide a cylindrical housing for the distant sensor since such practice is routine skill in the art.

5. Claims 3, 4, 6 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ikawa in view of Kapteyn et al. (US Pub. 2001/0022212 A1), hereinafter Kapteyn.

Ikawa teaches using a laser displacement sensor and CCD camera to measure a depth of a groove. Kapteyn teaches using an inductive sensor to measure a depth of a groove. See the Abstract. Using a laser displacement sensor and CCD camera or an inductive sensor to measure a depth of a groove is art equivalent. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one skill in the art to replace the laser displacement sensor and CCD camera in the Ikawa cutting tool with the inductive sensor as taught by Kapteyn since they are art equivalence and such practice is routine skill in the art.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed 09/29/2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The Applicant argues that his invention does not use a step of preheating of a plastic foil or a step of cooling. This argument is not persuasive. The claim language does not exclude those steps. Therefore, Ikawa anticipates the Applicant's claims.

The Applicant argues that Ikawa does not teach a direct measurement of a distance to a cutting counterplate. This argument is not persuasive. Ikawa teaches the upper flat surface of the cutting counterplate being a referent face. See col. 5, lines 1-6. Therefore, Ikawa teaches measuring the thickness T from the cutting counterplate.

Conclusion

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
